COL. BAYNE EXPLAINS.

What He Has to Say of the Democratic Landslide.

HE HELPED FRAME THE TARIFF BILL.

And Claims That Ignorance and Misrepresentation Were the Great Factors in the Late Election That Caused the Defeat of the Republicans. A Few Words with Representative Kerr About the Outlook—Presidential Timber.

WASHINGTON CITY, Nov. 10.—Representative Bayne of Pennsylvania, who helped frame the McKinley tariff bill as a member of the ways and means committee, is in Washington. He says that ignorance and misrepresentation were great factors in the defeat. In an interview Col. Bayne said that the cause of the Democratic victories was the fact that this is an "old-timers" election. The federal election bill, he said, had an effect secondary only to the "old-timers" cause, while misrepresentations about the new tariff helped to produce unfavorable results in Republican districts. "There is no likelihood of the Republican party undoing what it has done in the way of a consistent revision of the tariff simply because that revision has been misunderstood. The bill will stand as it is, as the present congress continues," said Col. Bayne.

The Senate as a Bulwark.

In the next congress the Democrats will be tumbling over each other with free trade opposition. The separate with a small Republican majority, will be looked upon as a bulwark against this sort of legislation, yet it may not answer the purpose in every instance. The votes of certain western Republican senators on the McKinley bill makes that fact clear. I think that the greatest danger to the present tariff act lies in a suggestion made by Senator Vest. He proposes that the act be disengaged by the passage of a number of special bills, and not by attempting a systematic revision in one bill embracing all the schedules.

How It Might Be Done.

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 10.—The Anarchists who resisted the police when a riot was arranged Saturday morning, together with Miss Parsons, the woman's suffrage was all gone, and she was shaved in public to the justice. She pleaded not guilty to the charge against her, but, with Elizabeth Hammer, Anna Gordon, and August Melzer, was remanded to appear before the grand jury Monday. The five other prisoners were fined $10 each and sent to jail for two days.

London's New Lord Mayor Inducted Into Office.

SOME FEATURES OF THE OCCASION.

ENORMOUS CROWDS THROUgH THE STREETS TO WITNESS THE PARADE—THE NEW LORD MAYOR RIDES IN A COACH DRAWN BY SIX HORSES AND IS LOUDLY CHEERED BY THE SPECTATORS—THE BIRTHDAY OF THE PRINCE OF WALES ALSO OBSERVED.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Thousands of people visited the spot in Waldeheim cemetery where rest the remains of Parsons, Spies, Lang, Fisher and Engel. Two thousand people visited the spot Sunday and joined in the memorial exercises that took place at the cemetery. The day was observed as the fourth anniversary of the anarchist execution.

Now, at 10:30, four of them paid on the gallows the extreme penalty of the law, the fifth one, Lange, having anticipated the gassing by suicide.

For the third time their friends and sympathizers observed the day with a parade and speeches at the cemetery. In spite of a lowering sky and a chilly wind, with their own commitments of double streets, 10,000 were in the procession.

Took the Red Flag Down.

Mrs. Lucy Parsons is absent in New Jersey and did not participate in the ceremonies of the day. Friends had, however, run up the red flag on her house at 301 Hammond Avenue, and it floated there until Patriotic Jump, of the Irving Park station, happened along and ordered it taken down. The order not being obeyed, Jump ascended to the roof and pulled down the flag and took it to the station.

LUCY PARSONS VERY MUCH.

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 10.—The Anarchists who resisted the police when a riot was arranged Saturday morning, together with Miss Parsons, the woman's suffrage was all gone, and she was shaved in public to the justice. She pleaded not guilty to the charge against her, but, with Elizabeth Hammer, Anna Gordon, and August Melzer, was remanded to appear before the grand jury Monday. The five other prisoners were fined $10 each and sent to jail for two days.

FIRST UNDER THE NEW LAW.

Execution of a Murderer at Canon City, Colo.

CANON CITY, Colo., Nov. 10.—Noverts Greig was executed in the state penitentiary at 6 o'clock Saturday night for the murder of W. C. Underwood at Trinidad last June. The execution was the first one to take place under the law requiring the death sentence to be carried out within the walls of the prison and prohibiting the press from publishing an account. The state press, however, disregarded this clause in the law. The hanging was guarded so well by Warden Leming that it was after midnight before it became known outside the walls. The condemned man made no statement to the authorities or the press from within the walls of the prison and after bidding farewell to his priest the rope was cut and his neck was broken, death resulting almost instantaneously. The body was taken down in fifteen minutes and given to his friends who will take it to Trinidad for burial.

Incidents of the Parade.

The riot old city guard is to be on the march to-day to display, perhaps to show the new country conditions in the city institutions had a good deal of life to them yet. Gentlemen who had never turned out before on a similar occasion paraded, and added by their presence both to the respectability and pomp of the antique caravan. It was queer to see a well-known lawyer marching under the banner of the skinned, and a caryatid figuring as a gothic-style but such are the changes which have brought about in the organization of these weatherly companies.

The outgoing mayor, Isaac, and the incoming mayor, Savory, rode in a magnificent coach drawn by six horses. The new lord mayor was loudly cheered by the citizens. He is much more popular than Isaac, chiefly because the latter is charged with not having upheld sufficiently the dignity of his office, whereas Savory has emphatically declared that, while he is mayor, he will be the first citizen of London, not in name alone, but in fact. The Silversmiths' company, to which the new lord mayor belongs, was prominent in the parade, and shared in the cheers which greeted the lord mayor.

Order Preserved Everywhere.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, Nov. 10.—John Haarschield, a driver for Schmidt Bros., brewers, was returning from Key West, while driving through a lonely ravine he was attacked by three men, who asked him to stop and rob him. The body lay lengthwise in the stream with the dead man's coat wrapped about his head. McKee was last seen alive in company with a strange man on Saturday evening. The scene of the present tragedy is near the spot where the body of Phoebe Paullin was found with her throat cut some years ago and is lonely and used infrequently.

FOREIGN MISCELLANY.

A Protest Against Parnell.

DUBLIN, Nov. 10.—Canon Doyle has published a sharp letter exhorting Irishmen to reject Mr. Parnell's suggested alternative or any other land-purchase scheme leaving out one-half of the tenantry, as Mr. Parnell's scheme does. He protests against Mr. Parnell's proposing such a scheme without consulting the Nationalist party, and declares that the very stones of Mitchelstown and Tipperary, red with the blood of their murdered brothers, would rise in mutiny at the thought of such a re-establishing of hated landlordism. The town followed the example of Taaffe and Seville, which don't permit Chartist in the city limits.

DUSTERS FOR SENATOR SPOONER.

BOSTON, Nov. 10.—Professor Hechmann inoculated fifteen consumptive patients on Thursday by Professor Koch's process, and on the following day exhibited one of the patients before a number of physicians in order to show the change that had resulted within twenty-four hours. The Boston Courier says it has authority for the statement that Professor Koch's remedy has proved to be a success. A famous German surgeon, it says, cured within five days a case of lupus or necrotic tubercular destruction of the tissues of the face.

WILL HAVE NO EFFECT ON PARNELL.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 10.—When Senator Spooner spoke here Nov. 3 he said that the dust of years had gathered on his law books since he went to the United States senate. Democrats here have shipped to Mr. Spooner at Hudson two enormous feather-dusters, with a note attached saying that he can now dust off those books.

A LACE FACTORY AT SCRANTON.

SCRANTON, Pa., Nov. 10.—R. Martin, of New York, representing the Nottingham, England, lace firm of Wootten, Moseley & Clifton, was in this city Saturday completing arrangements for the location of a large lace factory here, it will have a capital stock of $300,000, and will manufacture annually $500,000 worth of lace.

WHEN PARSONS IS DIVIDED.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—M. Vischnagradsky, minister of finance, has addressed a memorial to the czar on the subject of trade with Persia, urging that a portion, at least, of that country, will ultimately fall to Russia, and that the influence of Russia should be exerted to secure a share of the valuable franchises now being distributed by the shah to various European companies.

On his arrival he was carried from the railway station to his carriage on the shoulders of the crowd. Then the horses were unharnessed and the carriage was dragged in triumph throughout the streets.

prosecute Mr. Bartelot, the brother of the late Maj. Bartelot, and others for the publication and circulation of libels in connection with the conduct of the rear column and Mr. Stanley's relations thereto. Mr. Charles Russell, and Mr. George Lewis, a distinguished legal practitioner, have been retained Mr. by Stanley.

WHAT WAS IT THAT WAS RARE?

LONDON, Nov. 10.—The graves of the five executed Anarchists are hidden under granite and roses. Twenty or more societies are represented by the floral offerings that mark the spot in Waldeheim cemetery where rest the remains of Parsons, Spies, Lang, Fisher and Engel. Two thousand people visited the spot Sunday and joined in the memorial exercises that took place at the cemetery.

The day was observed as the fourth anniversary of the anarchist execution.

WHAT WAS IT THAT WAS RARE?

LONDON, Nov. 10.—A rare incident in the history of the Stock Exchange occurred during the past week. It was the action of the committee in expelling from the institution Percival Preston, a broker, for breach of faith with a client. The client had ordered Preston to sell a large parcel of Mexican securities, but the broker, disregarding the interests of his client, first sold himself, thus spoiling his client's market.

WOULD THE PROHIBITION PROSPER?

THE MARKET BECOMES QUIET.

The rush to sell, after the recent caused by the fatal incident, caused the lower prices of the day, but with the exhaustion of the selling orders, which then appeared, a number of the brokers who had been heavy sellers in the early dealings turned and bought heavily. A rally was soon under way, and at 1:30 p.m. the market was quiet, with prices 1 to 2 per cent. above the lowest of the day. Locksawana made the greatest recovery. The Vanderbilt stocks have been firmer than the list, and Northwest and Lake Shore were well held and did not sustain any material decline. Cooper Levy decided that James Struthers' death was caused by the bursting of a blood vessel in his brain. Money is urgent demand in the lead crowd and 1/2 per cent. premium in addition to legal interest is now bid.

TRAVELING MEN ARE INDIGENT.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 10.—Great indignation is expressed among traveling men in this city at the retaliation of authorities at Victoria. Since the passage of the McKinley law every American drummer doing business in Victoria has been required to pay a license of $50. This has been imposed on foreign salesmen until Jan. 1, when every foreign salesman must pay a fee of $100 for the privilege. The water ladders, especially, and everybody else rejoiced over the rain Friday and Saturday nights.

Rev. Bingham preached for the Dunkard brethren. The audience was small owing to the rain Saturday.

As soon as the weather settles a little the Seven Day Adventists in this neighborhood will hold a series of meetings at Nickey's hall.

As a general rule the prohibitionists drew from the republican ranks, but in our townships some of our leading prohibitionists voted the republican ticket.

The trial before Square Smith was of short duration. The boys paid dear for their experience, and after this they will no doubt make more definite contracts and be able to prove them.

Ed Coleman a representative of the Hood Dog, was in ourburg two days last week looking after its interests. Ed looked and felt like all of the rest of the "high priced fellows," but his genial disposition wouldn't let the defeat get the better of him.

PROSPECTS OF TROUBLE.

About a month ago Al McGee bought some lots near where the calaboose stood and erected a new house. Of course he wanted the calaboose and pound removed. So he and Fetus Besche, who lives near, paid for the moving of the city property. It was moved out to the south part of town near the Illinois Central railroad, but not on the Central land. Now the Central wants the Macon property removed from there, and the city has refused to move them. The company has threatened to sue them and there are flattering prospects for trouble soon.

Extracts From An Essay.

By request THE REVIEW prints this morning some timely extracts from a very interesting paper on "Work" before the Ladies' Aid society of the Baptist church last week, by Mrs. J. W. Kennedy:

The name adopted by our society, "The Ladies' Aid," is a correct one, I project. We have here a willing hearts and minds to serve our Lord, to aid our pastor and to work spiritually, financially and socially for the upbuilding of our church. And here I add a few words in regard to the "Roll Call" to be held Tuesday, Nov. 12. Each member is earnestly requested to be present afternoon and evening, if possible, and answer to their names by quoting a verse of scripture, saying "present," or any original little speech will be in order. There is always "Work" connected with any gathering of the people (especially if lunch, or supper is served). Let each one fill the place appointed them cheerfully, and do all they can to promote unity and happiness, making this first "Roll Call" a memorable day in the history of our church. And the lines of our life stretch farther than we think. We lay our plans for the future, and they prove to be tracks that never end. Did you ever think how all our paths go out into the unseen world? Our plans and schemes and busy contrivings are all endless lines that run into an endless eternity. Do you know how each unuttered thought, each heart feeling floats upward with a melancholy conviction of the shortness of human mortality.

We have the hands to work, the hearts to souls from Near Anterior.

In a field not far from Austerlitz, at a depth of about eight feet, the skeleton of a tall, powerful man has been discovered lying with the skull toward the west. Under the left arm was found a sword almost a yard long, with signs of having had the hilt covered with wood. In the neighborhood were found bones of animals, flint stones and fragments of earthenware. A naturalist who has seen the skeleton thinks it has laid in the earth for over a thousand years. It will be removed from its present position to a museum.—Cor. London News the mind to think and we must remember that God but leads to us. He asks for His reward ripened sheaves and fruit. Shall we then appear before His throne bearing naught but withered leaves? No! "Let us act, not in the living present" and when this life is all accomplished, when the record is sealed and sent above, what is written therein will either send us to happiness, or misery, life, or death.

Two Match Turkey Egg

A party of Jacksonville mechanics were at work on the Mississippi river raising a sunken dredge boat. They lived on the big lighter with the men who worked in a small house on the deck. One of the men had a wild turkey egg, which had been won by some of the party while hunting on shore. After the hungry engineers had destroyed a heavy dinner they left the dining room and returned to work. The doors and windows were all open, and the cook did not clear off the table for some time.

A curio may be seen in the Amherst hammock, just outside the corporate limits of Brookville, Hernando county, where a thief and overshoed hickory is holding a less thrifty and overshoed hickory, which had been won by some of the party while hunting on shore. After the hungry engineers had destroyed a heavy dinner they left the dining room and returned to work. The doors and windows were all open, and the cook did not clear off the table for some time.

Measurements of 31,000 children in Saxony show that nearly six feet crawled on board the lighter and wriggled into the dining room through the open door. In his prospecting tour he climbed the table leg and here, with a snake's fondness for eggs, for eggs, he was in for a feast. One of the turkey eggs lay alone by a plate, and the rest were in a dish on the other side of the table. In the center stood a large water jug, and right before the boy sat a serpent slipped up.

After swallowing the lone serpent he started for the main supper, and in his artless manner crawled through the handle of the jug. It was a rather tight fit, and he had to stop half way through on account of the egg, which enlarged him somewhat. So stretching forward he potted another egg and thereby fastened himself.

On each side of the handle was an egg on his inside, and he could move neither back ward nor forward, practically riveted in position. He was soon found in this painful jar situation by the cook, who speedily freed him.

The reporter was shown the skin of the snake with a crease still in the middle from the tremendous pressure, and he was also permitted to gaze on the jug which had proved so fatal.—Florida Times Union.

Mr. Keith's Trailing Beard

The most wonderful beard ever seen in this country or perhaps in any country is worn by James Keith of Caldwell, Tex. Mr. Keith was requested by one correspondent to show him the full length of his beard, which he never plucked and donc up in a soft cloth under his shirt front. When unbraided and combed out it reached nearly to the floor but swept back nearly two feet, notwithstanding its owner is a man of ordinary stature. A careful measurement showed it to be a little more than seven feet in length.

Not long since Mr. Keith declined a handsome offer from P. L. Barron to travel with his show, insisting as a reason that he was the owner of two flocks in Texas, one of sheep and the other of children, and he could not consent to leave them. Subsequently Mr. Barron wrote him that he was anxious to see his remarkable beard, and offered to pay the expenses of a trip from Texas to New York, where he would visit him. Mr. Keith accordingly made the journey to New York, where he spent several days as the guest of the great showman. Mr. Keith is but 42 years of age, and this wonderful beard is the result of twelve years growth—and St. Louis Globe Democrat.

PRICES—$25, $50, $75, and $100. The sale will be made on Saturday morning, Nov. 30 at the Grand Opera House.

"Merrily, merrily, shall I live now," the little girl said. "For I'm not to be kept in because of this terrible asthma." The young druggist said a bottle of Sarsaparilla from the drugstore, and it cost only 25 cents a bottle.

New Jersey has a Babylonian rainwater who claims to have baptized more people than any other in the country. The community in which he resides has been stricken over and over again by a stubborn cough that has interfered with his pastoral duties. A physician recommended Dr. H. C. Parker to him, and the result was that he was baptised in his church.

Our entire attention is given to the legitimate JEWELRY BUSINESS.

W. R. ABBOTT & CO.

M. G. PATTERSON IS HERE.

We Arrived Wednesday Night—is Weak But All Right.

M. G. Patterson, the missing architect, who has been variously written up in Decatur papers the last six months, is at his home at 129 North Water street. He has been here since last Wednesday night, when he arrived on the 10:15 train on the Wabash. He went home at once that night and has not been away from the house since. Few of his closest friends knew of his arrival. Questions asked of Masons who have corresponded with Denver Masons, even since his arrival in Decatur, were answered with the statement that nothing positive was known of his whereabouts. It was supposed he had started home, but nothing was known further.

Mr. Patterson since his arrival has explained the delay in his departure from Denver after the arrangements made for that by his friends. When his ticket was bought he was expecting a letter from his wife. Instead of starting at once, as his friends thought he would do, he waited for that letter. She, on the other hand, was expecting to hear from him, and so did not write for two or three days. When Mr. Patterson heard from his wife finally, he started home at once. He was four days on the way, making connection at almost every change.

Mr. Patterson is still very thin and weak. The last few weeks he has been suffering from an attack of malaria fever, and has not recovered from that. His mind is clear, however, he says himself he is in good shape and is good for a great deal of work yet. Beyond a conclusion to stay at home here, rest, and get well, he has not decided what he will do. He is now better than when he reached Decatur, though he can sit up only an hour or two at a time.

Mr. Patterson has said but little concerning the circumstances attendant upon his disappearance. The facts have already been printed here, and beyond that he has nothing to say that is new. He remembers distinctly starting to the train in Bloomington, but nothing more. How he got on the train, or where he went, he does not know. He had $1,500 on his person when he started to the depot. Of that $500 was in an outside overcoat pocket. All the money but that in his overcoat was gone when he partly recovered consciousness.

To Relieve the Girls.

The telephone exchange has lately put in an electric motor to ring up the subscribers and thus save the girls the trouble of turning a crank every time they want to call a number. The motor is connected with the Decatur Electric company's circuit, and power comes from it for generating the electricity that rings the bells. For some time the crank turning has been done away with, and instead of that electricity was obtained from the plant at Sheldinger's mill, but that was not always running, so the connection was made with the Decatur company's circuit. Now the girls, instead of turning a crank, as the subscribers do, simply press a button and the machinery does the rest. The next improvement will doubtless be an automatic arrangement to say hello, and then a machine to do the connecting. After that the young ladies will have nothing to do but listen to those conversations that are interesting.

How Kretzinger Was "Done Up."

This was a bad year for the republican management in Macon county, which hasn't yet dashed harvesting the crop of troubles it finds on its hands. One thing that will have to be settled is the way W. H. Kretzinger was done up in his race for the position of representative. He was promised an equal division of the republican vote in the two counties. Macon county has a great many more votes than Logan county, and for that reason Kretzinger was allotted the vote in certain precincts in this county.

A few days ago mention was made of the fact that the prices on imported guns had been raised. The importers said in their announcement of the raise that it was owing to the new tariff put into effect by the McKinley bill. Yesterday a leading Decatur dealer in guns received circulars from the wholesale dealers with whom he does most business informing him that the prices on American-made guns would be advanced at once, to correspond with the raise on imported guns. A traveling man who called on the same dealer yesterday showed instructions from his house to sell guns hereafter at advanced prices. So that is the way it works. First the imported guns go up and then the American guns follow. Now one would suppose that the wages of gun makers would be advanced, but as yet nothing has been said about it. The high protection newspapers by overlooking this advance are losing golden chances to make a big blow.

"Mishep" To-Night.

Of the play to be seen to-night at the Grand the Indianapolis Sun said:

"About the most laughable play that has been here for many a season is 'McCarthy's' which began its third nights and Wednesday evenings session at 8 o'clock. The title is known as the Ferguson & Mack Comedy company. Anybody who has ever seen and heard Ferguson, one of the most odd geniuses on the stage will readily credit the assertion that he alone is worth the price of admission, but Lizzie Daly divides the honors with him, and little Vina Daly, said to be the most artistic child actress in existence, is the embodiment of grace and agility. The play is under the management of Charles E. Rice, of the Bijou Theater, in New York, which actors deem a mascot for the production of comedies."

ANSEL'S CARPET STORE.

The funeral of Doris L. Boyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Boyd, will be held this morning at 10 o'clock from the home of her parents at 535 South Monroe street. The little girl died yesterday morning of diphtheria, aged 4 years and 5 months. Rev. C. E. Torrey will conduct the services. The child died at 6:30 Saturday evening, aged 1 year and 2 months.

THE IRON MOLDERS.

All day yesterday was occupied in Justice Curtis' court with the case of the People vs. Haffey and Schwartz for riot. The trouble that caused the cases to be brought was first in Wiefel & Brown's saloon a week ago last Saturday night, and then it continued the next night on North Water street. A large number of witnesses were examined and the case will be argued today. L. A. Buckingham is assisting A. H. Mills in the prosecution, and David Hutchison is for the defense. Each side will have half an hour for argument. Henry L. Mathews made the complaint and Thomas Tait is the prosecuting witness.

TO-DAY THE CASE WILL BE TRIED AGAIN.

Henry L. Mathews and Thomas Tait for carrying concealed weapons. John Haffey is the complainant in this case.

CHILD'S STAND SHIRT.

The family of S. E. Smith, who lives North of the Trotting association park on the Bloomington road, was cleaning house yesterday. A child about half grown pushed a table over and fell on the baby on the floor. One little hand was badly bruised, and a ring on a finger pressed so deeply into the flesh that it could not be taken off. Dr. H. C. Jones was called to take off the ring and dress the injury.

SERVICES AT THE CHAPEL.

The evangelical services at the College street chapel now being conducted by Rev. W. F. Bischoff continue to increase in interest. To-night W. H. Schuerman, of Normal, state secretary of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, will conduct the singing, besides giving several solo himself.

BRIK PAVING.

The Decatur Tile company has two days more work to do on the alley back of the St. Nicholas, and then the brick paving in Decatur for this year will be finished. Owing to the work on the sewers, less than half as much as usual has been done in this city this season. In all about 17 blocks have been put down, at an aggregate cost of about $35,000. That is not bad, when it is considered that $75,000 worth of work will be done on sewers, to say nothing of other public improvements of a less imposing nature.

BORN.

To Mr. and Mrs. Van Hall, on North Water street, a son.

To Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lester, at 1418 North Main street, on Monday, Nov. 10, a son.

PATENT NOTES.

R. S. Palmer, Howard Stoenipher and William Wise, were up before Justice Stevens yesterday, and each was fined $3 and costs. They had engaged in a row Saturday evening over the "scab" question. Palmer called Stoenipher a "scab" and Wise stepped in to assist in the melee which followed. Two of them are tailors and the other one is a blacksmith.

The Short Street caboose held one guest Sunday night. He was a railroader who got on a drunk and then boasted that no policeman could arrest him. Officer Berger put him blue away and he begged that his name be withheld, as it was his first offence, the officer was easy with him and let him out in the morning.

The levee police got two drunks in last night early. One was captured near Sheldinger's mill and was too full to tell his name. The other was a sewing machine agent.

Policemen Kuepp and Baylor and Wash Detective Austin made an excursion south yesterday and returned with five gentlemen of leisure, otherwise tramps. The gang of bums to the number of a dozen or more have been camping out south of town near the L. C. bridge and making raids upon the surrounding country. Some shoes have been stolen from a freight car in the L. C. yards, and these men have been selling shoes around, so they are likely to be stuck for that. One of them owns a sewing four pairs of shoes. Two of the men are the same who were in the same cell in the Short street caboose one night last week and got to fighting so they had to be separated. Last night all five of them occupied one cell in the same institution.

KEEPS THE BRICKS CLEAN.

J. G. Shea was asked yesterday if the brick streets are in better shape when kept perfectly clean, as they have been this summer, or if a half an inch of dirt on top acts as a protector, and so makes them last longer, as some contend. Mr. Shea, by the way, is an authority on brick pavements, and gets letters from all over the United States on the subject. Recently a banker in Jacksonville, Fla., wrote to see about getting brick for the streets there. A short time before that another inquiry was received from a town in Oregon.

In reply to the question about our pavements, Mr. Shea thought it was best to keep the streets clean and said the plan pursued the past summer would be satisfactory to everybody. The brick, if good, will wear as well without dirt on top as they will with it. That has been shown by the experience this summer, where the good brick are all right. If the dirt is left on the brick in the winter and spring, they are kept moist all the time. If they are at least bisected, the frost takes hold of them and as it comes out makes them tender and soft for a few days. Then the horse shoes and heavy wagon wheels break them up and do a great deal of injury.

HOW KRETZINGER WAS "DONE UP."

This was a bad year for the republican management in Macon county, which hasn't yet dashed harvesting the crop of troubles it finds on its hands. One thing that will have to be settled is the way W. H. Kretzinger was done up in his race for the position of representative. He was promised an equal division of the republican vote in the two counties. Macon county has a great many more votes than Logan county, and for that reason Kretzinger was allotted the vote in certain precincts in this county.

Nine refrigerators cans gaily decorated went through Decatur in a solid train Sunday. Englehardt Mallet with the 575 was pulling them. They were all full of beef, and were going from Joseph Schlitz's Milwaukee brewer to San Francisco.

MISSING SHEARER.

A queen natural history fairy tale comes from Scotland. At Hadrian's cat gave birth to four kittens, and with her offspring took up her abode in the garden summer house. These of the kittens were removed, and the body of the house on visiting the summer house the next day was surprised to find that the fourth kitten had also disappeared. Search was made, but to no avail. Several days passed, and the attention of the inmates was attracted by the somewhat stealthy movements of the mother cat, when it was seen to go repeatedly to a thick shrub of honeysuckle in the garden. Here the missing kitten was found safely encircled in a blackbird's nest. A better retreat could not have been chosen, as the nest was fully seven feet from the ground and in the thickest part of the honeysuckle. Here the kitten remained apparently comfortable in its novel quarters. —Boston Journal.

LARYNGITIS.

Laryngitis is an inflammation of the larynx, the organ of the voice. This inflammation would not be especially dangerous but for the narrowness of the "chin" in the larynx and the unyielding character of the surrounding walls. The swelling caused by the inflammation as it crowds inward tends to obstruct and even to close the opening. In many cases the danger is further increased by frequent spasmodic action of the laryngeal muscles, somewhat as in whooping cough.

LARYNGITIS may be either acute or chronic. The acute form is more immediately dangerous, but different cases of the acute form differ greatly in this respect, according as the inflammation is confined to the mucous membranes or extends to the tissues beneath—Youth's Companion.

BORACIC ACID FOR CONSUMPTION.

Some very interesting and possibly important experiments have been made during the past five years by Dr. Gaucher of Paris. Bacilli of tuberculosis were injected into several rabbits, producing the disease in all cases. Other rabbits were then inoculated in just the same manner, but were fed afterward with bran mixed with borax and lime. Killing these rabbits ten days later no trace of tubercular disease could be found. How far the boracic acid might be related to the human victim of tuberculosis is not known, but in such trials as have been made lung decay has been arrested and improvement in every way has resulted.—Arkansas Traveler.

ALARMING.

Three hundred tons of smoked leather bought in this country by the English last week, leaving the American market bare of finished stock. A syndicate formed by the tanners at Indianapolis on the 5th of this month to force up the already amazingly high price of leather. Powers has already all his contracts made and signed for his 1st stock at old prices, so there will be every advantage in buying at the celebrated shoe store of Powers.

The Election is Over but the work on the directory for 1891 continues. All parties satisfied with the works issued heretofore, but the new book will lead them all. Don't forget this when called on by the canvassors.

Foster's Grocery Store. W. W. Foster will have a big celebration at his Water street grocery store Thursday and Friday, Nov. 30 and 31. There will be a coffee drawing, and hot coffee, not cakes with maple syrup and bread and butter will be served free, while a band of music will assist in entertaining the thousands of visitors who will avail themselves of the hearty invitation extended to the general public by the liberal grocer. It will be an event to look forward to.

STRAY SCRAPS

"McCarthy's Mishap" to-night. Douglas county vote sellers are being prosecuted.

The final naturalization papers of Julius Shafer, a German, were issued yesterday. Henry May was paying up his election bill yesterday. One was 25 cents worth of ginger bread for John Bird.

The First division of the Woman's Club at the meeting yesterday afternoon discussed the Bonnet law. Next Monday they will discuss Sabbath Observance and the Bible in the Schools.

Albert T. Summers went to Peoria yesterday to take the Scottish Rite degrees of Masonry. There is a Consistory at Peoria, and Mr. Summers will be gone until Thursday taking those high degrees.

Willie Bray, a boy of 10, fired a load of bird shot into the head of a man near Bloomington, named Schwart, who ordered him off the place he was hunting on. Bray refused to go and shot at Schwart twice.

Frank Allen, of Peoria, and Miss Mary Rankins, of Decatur, who is popular in colored society here, were married yesterday at 10:30 a. m., at the A. M. E. personage by Rev. J. S. Woods. They have gone to Peoria to live.

J. M. Clokey has returned from Detroit, where he went to interview Commander Veazy of the G. A. R. General Veazy took considerable interest in the Memorial Hall project and will at once appoint a committee as provided at the National encampment.

Mrs. P. B. Provost is suffering from a severe fall received last Saturday night. She was going out to the pump for some water, and in the darkness stepped down the cellar stairs. Some one had forgotten to close the door, and the result was that she sprained her right ankle very badly. She was able to get around the house yesterday.

The widow of President Lincoln and four of his descendants, his sons, Edward E., William and Thomas (whom his father called Ted), and Abraham Lincoln, Jr., son of Robert T., now lie buried in the Lincoln monument at Springfield. There are only two crypts remaining unoccupied, and they are held in readiness for Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Lincoln, when they, too, shall be called from earth.

The Short street hotel was so full last night that many guests had to sleep three in a bed. That didn't suit some of them very well, but Night Clerks Donahoe and Kirkbride were too good business men to turn any one away.

The cool nights are making the applicants for lodgings quite numerous. An old mattress on a hard floor, with one thin blanket would be by most people considered worse than nothing, but the fellows who have tried it out of doors with the mercury down about freezing, think differently.

Most of the tramps who want to stay over night think it is a great comfort to get inside the cheerless walls of the station house.

Burglars at Kenney.

The hardware store of Merriman & Ives at Kenney, was broken into Friday night and about $10 worth of goods taken, such as pocket knives, hatchets, etc. The thief then entered the grocery store of John A. Buckles and took about $25 worth of goods.

The way the stores were entered indicates that the burglar was an experienced hand at the business. He deftly broke out a small piece of glass in a back window near the stop, which made it an easy job to raise the window and enter.

There was no evidence of matches having been used in the rooms, making it evident that the person carried a dark lantern.

There is no clew to cause the arrest of anyone.

New Music.

Five new pieces of music have been published by the Chicago Music company, a firm that is noted for getting out fresh, popular and charming music. Three of these pieces are instrumental and two are vocal music. The titles are: "The Windy City," a riddle; "Slumber Song," by Estelle Andrews; "Bloomington Waltz," by Scott Price; "Sweet Angeline," by William A. Baebuck, and "The Orphan Boy," by D. N. Long. All are pleasing and some will no doubt become the rage.

Want the Senator.

Members of the Macon county conference of F. M. B. A., Grange and Knights of Labor organizations are talking of having a meeting at the court house, Saturday, Nov. 16, to take action in reference to choose for United States senator. They would instruct for Major J. M. Thompson or Judge Lindsey. They say they hold the balance of power in the Illinois legislature, and will never consent to have the three F. M. B. A. members vote for Palmer.

Mrs. Sedgwick's terms and class hours for dancing and physical culture appear elsewhere in this paper. Just as soon as she knows definitely when her rooms will be ready for occupancy, a time will be appointed to receive persons who wish to join classes. This promises to be a successful year, as many applications for admission to classes have already been received.

Pearl Fisheries in Illinois.

Some time ago two boys, it is said, found pearls in the mussels in Mackinaw river, near Kappa. They took the pearls to Peoria, where they were offered $23 for two of them. There has been a craze ever since. People are pearl hunting everywhere along the river, which is full of mussels and offers plenty of material to work on.

No Deer.

Word has been received from the hunting party in Alscour of which Dr. W. J. Chanoweth and J. E. Patterson are members. They say there is plenty of deer and small game, but they know they will get no deer. That is what they want most.

W.H. Moore.

Frank Arnold has bought a house of John Kinsey at 94 North College street, and will move there to-morrow from his present residence on East William street. The price paid was $1,500.

Funeral of Mrs. Porter.

The funeral of Mrs. Lydia Moore Porter who died last Friday morning, was held yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. D. N. Moore, 511 West Main street. A large number of friends and relatives were present.

The services were conducted by Rev. W. H. Penhallegon, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of which Mrs. Porter was a member. He was assisted by Rev. James Miller of the First M. E. church and Rev. George E. Scrimger of Stapp's chapel. After the reading of the scriptural lesson and prayer by Rev. Miller, Rev. Penhallegon delivered the funeral address, taking as his theme the words, "To Die is Gain." Rev. Scrimger spoke briefly after these remarks.

A choir composed of Mrs. A. W. Conkin, Mrs. J. D. Henke, Miss Minnie Pitts, Sherman McClelland and Howard Diller, sang the following selections:

"Asleep in Jesus," "Abide With Me" and "Jesus Lover of My Soul."

A large number of persons accompanied the remains to Greenwood, where the interment was. Rev. Penhallegon read the Presbyterian burial service, the choir sang "Sleep and Rest," and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Scrimger. The pall bearers were Sherman McClelland, Walter Boyd, Charles G. Powers, Will Helmick, A. L. Lytle, and James T. Roberts.

"Water, Water Everywhere."

The dwellers on West Wood street and in that vicinity, thought when they first looked out of their windows yesterday morning, that there must have been a cloud burst during the night, for no ordinary rain could produce the deluge that was before them. For a long distance the streets and all the low ground was flooded, and where it all came from was a mystery. On examination and investigation, however, the cause appeared simple enough. In one of the yards there was a hydrant pipe of ordinary diameter, that stood about three feet above the ground. Within the house that fronted on this yard a young lady lived, and this young lady had a friend, a young gentleman who came to see her Sunday evening. That night after a pleasant hour's call, he started home and instead of going by the walk, went skipping across the yard to the street. It is not stated definitely why he was running instead of walking. Not being familiar enough with the topography of this yard he stumbled over the said hydrant with such force that he broke off the top of it, and the water commenced to spout its full volume. He had no way of stopping the stream and so left in haste, and there the water spouted all night and until the plumber came to fix it yesterday. And now the young man says he will never touch water again under any circumstances.

Thinks He Has a Snap.

L. S. Carter, the expert marksman, who used to live at Hammond, but is now traveling for a wholesale pickle house, was in Decatur yesterday. He has made a match for next Thursday at a town north of this city. He is not quite sure yet what he has before him, but thinks he has a "soft snap," and will easily win $100 off a concealed target. Mr. Carter was in a grocery store trying to sell pickles and vinegar when he came the country round and began to tell a big story about what a deadly shot he was. The grocer said, "Here's a man you can't beat," referring to Carter. The farmer looked Carter over and then said that this gentleman couldn't shoot in the same section with him. The result was a bet of $100 a side, and $50 forfeit was put up at once. Each side will shoot at 100 live pigeons. Mr. Carter has asked Chau Powers to go and act as referee, but that has not been settled.

W.H. Moore.

Edward Allman, a well known citizen of Piatt county has rented his farm and will move to Decatur to live. He was a candidate for sheriff at this election, but contrary to almost every other county, Piatt turned nearly all the republican officers. Doubtless Mr. Allman has concluded that it is time to move when a county won't go democratic this year.

Funeral of Mrs. Porter.

In the morning Rev. Mrs. Gibb preached from the text "Let us go on to perfection." She spoke of the progress made in ages past, of the broader charity and more liberal thought of the present, of the silent influence at work leaving the theology of other denominations, until many of the old doctrines are abandoned. The speaker paid a loving tribute to the system of faith for whose promotion she labored most zealously. The evening lecture was a strong and thoughtful plea for studying the Bible in the light of this century. Many of the opinions of those who have given the subject much study and thought, were given as evidence against the infallibility of the Bible. The difficulties in the way of translators, their various motives, the designs of different writers, interpolations that have been discovered were referred to as showing why there are imperfections in the Bible. She said we should study these books with the most reverential thought of God, seeking only to know the truth that we may be guided by it.
